Financial Crush Spurs Growth in USiFF Online Auctions

~ The hard times are bring more auction buyers and sellers online.

Corona, February 19, 2009 ~ With the current growth in usiff.com web traffic, up 23% this month, USiFF Online Auctions is pleased to announce our economic stimulus initiative sale, usiff.com is offering bargain auctions which will start at $5 with no reserve.

“Our auction sellers wanted to offer buyers this initiative sale, to help those who have been hit hard with the current economic down turn. We also know that sellers can’t afford to waste their hard earned cash on auction listings that don’t sell the first or second time around.” said Rene Holliday, founder USiFF Online Auctions.

USiFF online auctions recently added Repatoo, Repatoo’s goal is to provide a way for users to take and show their reputation anywhere online. “It’s a extraordinary system for our auction sellers, our members can show their reputation from a number of different sites with one click”, said Rene.

The Repatoo system will display feedback from a number of different sites, like ebay, ecrater, webidz and usiff to name a few.

USiFF online auctions is ready to stimulus the economy and give auction buyers and sellers an alternative on-line auction site.

USiFF.COM Online Auction Concept

The USiFF auction concept in fact, is very simple; auction fees, if any, are only charged when an item sells successfully. Our goal is simple; provide customers a cost efficient means to trade and auction items globally. When Usellit4free’s customers have an unsuccessful auction, USiFF is not providing a service. Therefore, our customers do not pay. Our motto; “U don’t sell - U don’t pay - It’s that easy!”
