bio-plastics.org:

The website and information portal bio-plastics.org offers information and up-to-date knowledge on bioplastics. It serves as a professional platform in this emerging industry to present your company and products, and services.

Institut für Recycling (IfR):

The Institute for Recycling does research on subjects such as plastics, renewable raw materials, lightweight construction, recycling and handling of highly disperse powders, and is, with this practical approach to research, a welcome partner for the entire industry.
