

Brave Day[®]

Breast Restoration AdVocacy Education

MARCH 21

Be Informed.
Be Educated.
Be BRAVE.

Know Your Rights

- If you have a strong family history of breast cancer, insurance companies may provide access to early screening with mammograms.
- Women have access to reconstruction following a lumpectomy or mastectomy for treatment of breast cancer or if they are at high risk (such as BRCA positive or have a very strong family history of breast cancer).
- Women are encouraged to get advice prior to any surgical procedure and to contact a trusted health care professional for further information.
- State and Federal Laws mandate that insurance carriers cover the cost of reconstructive procedures following a mastectomy, as well as symmetry procedures for the other breast (Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998). Sometimes reconstructive procedures following lumpectomy may also be covered.
- Women deserve the right to hope, healing and to happiness during their breast cancer journey. Survivors can be Thrivers!

PROJECT MISSION:

To provide breast cancer survivors and their families a pathway of hope, healing, and happiness through education and an empowering community.

Hope

BRAVE DAY • MARCH 21

Advocacy for all women to know their rights when diagnosed with breast cancer.

Healing

RETREATS

For those moving beyond breast cancer and claiming their new lives. We help preserve healthy minds, bodies, and spirits.

Happiness

PINK PATHWAYS PROGRAM

Professional mentor coaching program designed to support breast cancer Thrivers. Creating meaningful and fulfilling lives with a focus on health and well-being as a powerful pathway to wholeness and life satisfaction.

